

FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's telephone privacy law protections I only have 3-4 hours a evening at home to be with my family I do not want the annoying calls while fixing dinner or eating asking if I want new windows and sideing which I already have new windows and I have a brick house. It got that I was hateing to answer phone because of this missing friends and relatives calls.